

FRIULI VENEZIA GIULIA

In the very North-Eastern part of Italy, among the most famous wine lands in Italy, there is Friuli Venezia Giulia. Because of its position, it has always been a land of border, ruled by different countries throughout the centuries.

Milan MXP is the closest international airport. It is 450km from Trieste, the main city. Trieste has its own airport which serves the region

Did you know that...
Trieste is an incredible sea-city enriched by the encounter of different people and cultures?

Curiosity

The main square Piazza Unità, that has an Hasburgic kind of architecture, is the biggest square in Europe on the sea.

In the surroundings of Trieste, up on the karstic coast, there are plenty of typical taverns call osmize. They're local farms where people can stop by to drink local wine and eat home-made products. Some of them have spectacular views on Trieste and are located in charming vineyards.

Tasting of the exclusive Sauris ham

The Prosciutto di Sauris (Sauris Ham) is renowned and appreciated on both a national and international level and it owes its uniqueness to the particular method of smoking used, that is carried out by burning beech from the local woods in the traditional fireplaces and by channeling the smoke into the rooms used for smoking.

Tasting in local tavern, up to 40 pax
